

Gratitude in Business Expert Leadership Coach, Workshop Leader, and Speaker

Gratitude is the foundation for successful leaders. We speak directly to managers' challenges and offer science-based, real-life practical solutions. We make intangibles actionable. We wrote the book on Gratitude in business. We've been there and done it and helped hundreds of leaders.

Star Dargin, PCC, CPCC, VC

What people are saying:

- Practical tips for important concepts
- Star uses science and story
- Engaging and Interactive
- Experienced professional speaker with a unique ability to captivate people and help them reach their fullest
- Every culture needs a gratitude boost
- Star is a Star!

Star, your perspective has deeply influenced my professional and personal growth. How many times can I say Thank you?

Kathleen Melanson
Deputy Director, Benefits
Coordination & Recovery

Star Leadership

If you see the value of upping leader's gratitude game, contact us: at Star@StarLeadership.com

What's Your Leader's #1 Challenge?

We show you in a fun and interactive way based on research how gratitude in business helps:

Handle change and uncertainty better

Managing bad behaviors, blaming, yelling, ghosting, and resolving conflicts

Getting unstuck in problem-solving

Creating more engaged and collaborative teams

Innovative solutions and risk-taking that lead to bottom-line business improvements.

Leaders become more confident by learning how to show up authentically

We Bust Five Myths about Gratitude in Business

1. I'm already grateful, and it's not working
2. Grateful/happy people are not taken seriously
3. Grateful people are walked over and used
4. I'm surrounded at work by ungrateful people who can't change
5. Gratitude doesn't get real and hard provable results

We guarantee everyone walks away one actionable idea, inspired, and something to think about!

Star Leadership

www.starleadership.com

Contact us at: INFO@StarLeadership.com